ANNOUNCEMENTS.

To the Voters of Sedgewick County.
I am a candidate for the office of county superintendent, subject to the decision of the people at the polls. Men have been given lucrative offices in this county because they were disabled in the service of the country. It is this the credential for office. I left father and brothers on the field of battle who fell in defense of the Union, and because of their irreparable loss, my whole life aspirations and ambitions were forever disabled, even an education was obtained by a terrible struggle against fearful odds. The field of occupation for women is limited, though the harvesters are many. I respectfully ask your support on the ground of merit alone.
MRS. M. E. LEASE.

To the Editor of the Eagle:
Please announce G. W. Stearns as a candidate for Representative of the Second District, subject to the decision of the people at the polls.

Mrs. Dr. B. E. Terrill, of Muir, Mich., is visiting her sister, Mrs. Dr. J. H. Terrill.

Misses Nellie and Emma Huthings of Indianapolis are visiting friends in this city.

Dr. Farquhar of Haverhill, Ind., is visiting his brother-in-law, E. T. Allen, on College hill.

Mrs. Emma Denny and daughter Elsie, of Harveyburg, Ohio, are visiting friends in the city.

Co. A. K. N. G., have accepted an invitation to attend the fair and G. A. R. reunion at Eldorado.

E. B. Spurgeon, one of the leading lawyers of St. John, was in the city yesterday on legal business.

Hon. Frank Gillett of Kingston spent the day in the city yesterday. He came in from Topeka and went on home last evening.

Mr. E. S. Handy, one of Hutchinson's brightest and most successful capitalists, spent the day in the city yesterday and made us a call.

Members and those wishing to be members of Wichita athletic club, are requested to meet at the Manhattan hotel parlors Monday evening at 8:30.

J. W. Moore, the proprietor of the Arlington hotel, Atchison, and the man with the big diamond, was in the city yesterday shining up his friends.

The infant child, John Wesley, of W. W. and Lillie R. Plummer, died Thursday and was buried Friday at Belle Plaine. The sorrowing parents have the sympathy of all their friends.

The derrick at the Cary building yesterday fell while raising a large corner stone, and fell into the basement. No one was hurt, though some of the workmen ran a narrow escape.

Mr. J. J. McNamara, of the firm of Munson & McNamara, and his wife, are off for St. Louis and Chicago this morning, to be gone two or three weeks. The EAGLE wishes them a pleasant trip.

Dr. Edward H. Creditor, of Angola, Indiana, a prominent dental surgeon, who has many friends in this section, arrived in the city yesterday and is stopping with his friend, O. G. Work, on South Lawrence.

Dr. C. will remain in the city several days and may leave.

Mr. J. V. Smith, who in 1870 camped on the prairie where Douglas avenue now is, and who for years has been living in California, called yesterday. He said he knew by the EAGLE that Wichita was a great booming town, but didn't expect to find a city of such real magnitude.

Thomas Barnes, of Rockford, one of the old timers, was in the city last night, and said the train was behind time, which prevented his going home. He reports the corn crop as not yielding very well. He says the farmers in his part of the country will not plant much wheat. The continued low prices are not encouraging.

After a period of four months of negotiation with the Kellar management, Mr. L. M. Crawford has at last succeeded in looking this superb attraction on his theatrical circuit. The Kellar combination make their first appearance in Wichita on Thursday night next. Our citizens should show their appreciation of his enterprise by turning out in large numbers.

Charlie Heuscher, of Mulvane, and a delegate in the last Republican convention, was in the city yesterday accompanied by his brother, who resides in Michigan, and is here to look over the "Happy Valley." Charlie says the recent acclamation of the Republican party gives great satisfaction in his part of the country. He regards the talk of the Democrats that they are going to beat Ed Jewett as a huge joke.

Col. Augustus Knight from St. Louis and his son, the latter of whom was married in June, since which time he and his bride have been traveling on the Pacific coast, called last evening in company with Mr. E. B. Elbert. Colonel Knight, who it will be remembered, invested very largely in real estate last spring, says that three months have witnessed such improvements and developments as he would not have dreamed of. We are glad to see him back and to see him so well pleased with his investments.

The ladies will give a social at the First M. E. church on Tuesday evening the 28th. It will be preceded by the following program: Admission 10 cents. All are cordially invited:

Instrumental solo.....Maud Terrill
Vocal duet.....Mrs. Bell and Miss Earl
Vocal solo.....Mrs. Bell and Miss Jackson
Recitation.....Mrs. Bell
Vocal solo.....Mrs. Bell
Instrumental solo.....Beatrice Thomas
Vocal duet.....Mr. and Mrs. Hollinger
Vocal solo.....Mrs. Bell
Recitation.....William Brandon
Quartet.....Messrs. Collins, Allen, Hall and Hoffmaster.

The next attraction will be the Keller Combination, Sept. 30, Oct. 1-2.

FACTS ABOUT WICHITA.

The new directory which is now substantially completed shows that Wichita has a population of 22,000, an increase in the last twelve months of over 5,000. There are 8,000 names in the directory from the city alone, last year there were 4,000; this year there are 4,000 names from the thirty other postoffices in Sedgewick county. There are eight banking houses, fifteen dry goods houses, forty-three grocery stores, twenty-two hotels, besides scores of boarding houses, twenty-seven drug stores, eighty attorneys, sixty-one physicians, one hundred and forty real estate agents, all of whom have regularly established offices, besides at least two hundred more who are connected with these offices and make this their chief business, eight printing establishments, five architects, 123 blacksmith shops, three carriage makers, four colleges and seminaries, five iron foundries, and machine shops, twelve hardware stores, nine jewelry stores, twenty-five livery stables, twenty-three loan offices, five planing mills, eight merchant tailor stores, ten furniture yards, eighteen meat markets, and other classes of business in their proportionate ratio.

During the year ending September 1st, 1886, thirty-three attorneys, twenty-four physicians, ninety-three real estate agents in addition to those already here, have established offices. The directory contains 313 closely printed pages, is elegantly bound and printed at the Eagle Publishing House, and shows that the publisher, F. A. North, has done his work with the greatest care and persistence.

THE NEW P. O. SITE.

It is said that the postoffice department has made an order removing the postoffice to the G. A. R. building. The postmaster has had no notice of such fact, but we expect the information is true. There were three points of locations offered and considered, but the Grand Army boys made such a generous offer as was hard to get around. However, as a free delivery is to go in a few days, it will make little difference to the people of the city. The new location will probably inconvenience the newspaper men more than any one else, as compared to the old, especially this paper, which delivers a large amount of mail matter before daylight six days in the week. But we shall not grumble or find any fault. The G. A. R. boys showed great enterprise in constructing such a hall, and if the postoffice will help them any we will continue as happy as though it had been placed just across the alley in Saitzler's building. We expect the east Douglas avenue interests would have desired the Davidson & Throckmorton building, but that place would have been, maybe, just as inconvenient or more so. The postmaster general and supervising architect say when they got at the new building it will be rushed. In the meantime Wichita can't afford to quarrel about or over anything—she is entirely too prosperous and happy for any jealousies.

OBITUARY.

Died, at the family residence, 423 South Lawrence avenue, on Friday night, at 10:30 Mrs. Elizabeth D. Andrews, wife of J. S. Andrews. About a year and a half ago Mr. and Mrs. Andrews came here from Wapello, Iowa. The removal was made in the hope of improving Mrs. Andrews' health, and for a time she seemed to be better. Of late she has been slowly sinking, and now the end is come.

Mrs. Andrews was born April 11th, 1838, in Rich county, Indiana. She has been a life long Christian, in her girlhood she was a member of the United Presbyterian church, but in later years she was connected with the Presbyterian church. She was a model woman in faith, in purity, in charity, and best of all she had an abiding faith in the Lord Jesus Christ. A husband, a daughter and four sons mourn her loss. Mr. Andrews and his daughter will accompany the body to Wapello, Iowa, for interment. The funeral services will be conducted at her late residence at 2:30 this afternoon.

IN MEMORIAM.

James R. Brassfield is no more. The dread hand has again reached out from the dark and in the midst of our busy life there is another vacancy, a familiar form and face have been snatched suddenly away and forever by its fatal grasp. Flight is vain wishes and longings futile. It is the sad mystery which ends our life and ends all. James Brassfield was one of the earliest settlers in this valley, coming to Wichita in 1870 when the town was first laid out. To all of the old residents of the city there were few forms more familiar. His great failing, as measured by the standard of this selfish world was his generosity. He never was asked to divide and refused. He was born in 1839 in Clay county, Missouri, near Liberty. From the close of the war until June 1870 he lived in Leavenworth, coming to Wichita in that year with the Kohn brothers, clerking in their store until Kohn sold out the dry goods business to Brassfield & McKee. Since 1874 he has been a bookkeeper and salesman, being engaged at different times with Arthur Allen, Thos. Jewell, A. Katz, A. Wingard, Benj. Aldrich, C. A. Phillips, Geo. E. Harris, J. T. McMillen, Chas. Derby, and maybe others. Poor Jim; his battle has been fought, and let us hope that while death claims the first victory, that our friend may rise triumphant to an existence peaceful, beautiful and immortal. May he be.

"Through the splendor of stars imperiled
In the glow of their far off grace,
Now go soaring world by world
With his soul in heaven's embrace."

The funeral will occur at the opera house at 8 o'clock conducted by Rev. Harper. Friends invited to attend. The pall bearers will meet at the Benevolent Home at twenty minutes to three o'clock.

CORRECTION.

To the Editor of the Eagle:
Please correct the misstatement in this morning's EAGLE, and also last evening's, and also this evening's Beacon, relative to the Keppers forgery. If you don't I fear by Monday morning my friends over the way will have it that I forged the name of P. M. Keppers. I did not endorse the draft, nor did Keppers forge the sight draft on Wilson & Thomas, of St. Louis. I made the draft in regular form for $444.41, payable to the order of Thomas W. Bessinger, and Keppers got the draft, forged the name of Bessinger and the Wichita National bank paid the draft without Bessinger's name being identified.

AT THE OPERA HOUSE.

The performance of the "Danites" last evening by the Wilber Lyceum Company was the most successful of their engagement in this city. The characters of the "Parson" Sandy and Billy Piper were, well sustained and deserve special mention. This company will play a return engagement of a week in October, at their usual prices of admission, 10 and 20 cents.

The next attraction will be the Keller Combination, Sept. 30, Oct. 1-2.

HERE'S A CHANCE.

There are those who are daft on the subject of manufacturers for Wichita, just as though such matters didn't take care of themselves. Just as though a subsidy would make a success of a factory when it would otherwise fail. Factories to succeed must be in response to a demand. And those most successful are such as find a surplus of raw material at hand. Now Mr. G. T. Wells lays upon our table specimens of sand and sand rock taken from a bank on Mr. Perry's land four miles south of town, some of which Capt. C. T. Myers carried back to the Canton, Ohio, glass works. The proprietors and experts of that establishment unite in saying that the sand is 75 per cent. pure glass quartz, and that it will make under one plate glass, a better glass than is turned out by them or by any other factory of Ohio or of the west. Number one plate glass, remember. Here's an opportunity. Let this be worked up by our enthusiastic manufacturing advocates. There seems to be no mistake or chances of a mistake for the supply is unlimited.

DID YOU NOT NOTE IT?

With twenty-four thousand five hundred people attending the Arkansas Valley fair at this city on last Thursday, and which was undoubtedly one of the largest crowds ever seen in the state of Kansas, one would naturally have concluded the jam on the streets would be unprecedented. But the business thoroughfare of Wichita on Thursday did not compare for rush and jam with that of yesterday. It is perfectly safe to say that aside from the streets of Leavenworth at the time when the war was at its height, no such city was ever witnessed on the streets of any city in Kansas as was afforded by the streets of this city yesterday. Douglas avenue for a full mile or more and Main street for a full half mile, and Market and First streets for several blocks each, were a rush of vehicles, and the sidewalks upon either side and for the distances named but counter-marching processions of traders, shoppers, etc. No man or woman could have looked upon Wichita yesterday, and failed in spite of the mud and overhanging weather to have been proud of the fact that they lived in Wichita.

FAIR NO. 2.

One of the attractions yesterday was an exhibition of Sedgewick county products in Niederlander's office windows. It embraces several pieces of the finest marine wool exhibited at the fair by R. Huffman on which he was awarded first premium. In the same window is shown a thrifty cotton plant grown in the south part of the city. Samples of corn, wheat, timothy, alfalfa, and a few fine varieties of vegetables are also shown, but the best point of the exhibition is a caricature farm scene shown on canvas. It is a conception of the clever artist, Mr. Newby. In the foreground is shown a mammoth ear of corn drawn by six stalwart oxen driven by a big grasshopper. At the edge of a neighboring field the farmer in the act of rolling a similar load on his wagon by means of heavy sleds, while in the distance may be seen the steeples and towers of Wichita.

The whole display is quite unique, and serves to attract the crowd. Niederlander never does things by halves.

COUNTERFEITER CAUGHT.

Last night near half past 9 o'clock, a lad named Frank Turner was noticed passing counterfeit money. The fact was made known to policeman Clark and he found the lad aboard a street car on east Douglas avenue. He was turned over to Tom McNamara and city marshal Cairns, who took him to his room on North Market street and securing his grip returned him to the county jail. They then made an exploration of the grip, and found in it four bars of white lead, ladle and soldering iron.

On his person was found two and one-half dollars of good money, and between five and six dollars of counterfeit.

The prisoner claims that he got the money somewhere, but knows not where. He purports to be from California, having been in the city only a few days.

Of course the police take his statements with no small degree of latitude. They know something more of him than he is aware of. It is known almost to a certainty that he is connected with a gang of some dimensions who have been doing the town up for some time. This it is hoped will lead to some important discoveries concerning some robberies of recent date.

WEDDING BELLS.

A neat gold leveled card reached us yesterday from the suitor state, bearing the words "W. H. Livingston—Kate Rush, married, Tuesday, September 21st, at Tallula, Illinois; at home October 10th, at Wichita, Kansas." Mr. Livingston is assistant cashier of the State National Bank. We wish him and his fair bride joy, and in the name of all his many friends bid them welcome to Wichita when their honeymoon shall have waned. Here love his golden shafts employs, here lights his constant lamp, and waves his purple wings.

Rejoice here and revels.

AT THE PROBATE JUDGE'S OFFICE.

Yesterday afternoon an inquest of insanity was held at the probate judge's office upon the person of Joseph Hammond. The following jurors were called: B. D. Hammond, Jos. Beard, Dr. Owens, D. S. Barrett, H. E. Armstrong, J. D. Caldwell. After hearing the evidence it was held not sufficient to find him insane, and he was released from confinement. His case was continued over from last Saturday and he has been in the jail since then.

A CLEAN SWEEP.

Rogers the photographer took the first premiums on the best display of photographs, crayon portraits, India ink portraits and the best display of pictures of all kinds at the fair last week, and the frames on his work at the fair manufactured on Main street by Combs & McCoy, also carried off a blue ribbon. Rogers has claimed to lead in his profession and this goes to prove that he does.

BASE BALL.

A match game of ball will be played next Tuesday and Wednesday afternoons between the Emporia and Wichita Reds at the fair grounds.

The Emporias will bring the same club as before, while it is the intention of the Reds to strengthen their club by the addition of at least two good players.

WICHITA CLEARING HOUSE.

Mr. John G. Procy, the manager, reports the clearing of the Wichita clearing house for the week ending Saturday, September 25th, $574,355.86; cash balances, $129,969.00.

The Golden Rule society will hold a Peking tea in the Presbyterian church on Friday evening, Oct. 1st, 1886. Everybody is invited to come and "peek in," get acquainted and have a good time. Let no one stay away on any pretense. Don't forget this.

From Western School Journal.

The twenty-fifth annual meeting, at Topeka, Kansas, July 15th and 16th, was undoubtedly the greatest teachers' convention of the world, an assembly whose sessions will be referred to with pleasure by thousands of teachers for years to come. Among intelligent parents, as well as with the professional teachers of the present day, the need of a kindergarten and elementary department to primary school work is seen. Supt. W. N. Hallman, of La Porte, Ind., devoted some time to the application of Froebel's principles to primary school work, from which we culled a few thoughts. Froebel's great principles are: First, the religious principle, which calls for every step for the preservation of the unity and wholeness of life. Second, the ethical principle, which requires that the child at every step be led through the entire process of consciousness from feeling through thought to conduct. Third, the psycho-physical principle, which requires that education at every step respect the spontaneity of growth, leading the child through faith to freedom, which insists on the need of right motives, on the development of creative power, and on the establishment of character as the highest outcome of growth.

The courses of study should be arranged not in a straight line, but in concentric circles, taking the child as a center, and gradually expanding on all sides as the child's power increases, affording it a free, full outlook into the directions of a rich, practical life. The child should not grow up in whimsical obedience to its own caprice, but be led to free obedience to law. Again the child should be led to method and system in all it does. Children must be taught to make things for the sake of accuracy and clearness of thought, and to secure the feeling and habit of doing, of working, of creating; here lies, too, the value of the school workshop of later years.

MISTAKEN IDENTITY.

The case of Tom Carter and Mrs. A. Russell, who were arrested last night at 12 o'clock and placed in the county jail, charged with improper conduct, was called this afternoon in Justice Thomas' court, but was postponed on account of the absence of witnesses until 10 o'clock next Monday. The warrant was sworn out against the couple by Andy Russell, the divorced husband of the woman who bears an unenviable reputation as a serial case in police circles.—Beacon.

To the Editor of the Eagle:

The item referred to above was clipped out and sent me my relatives by some damnable scoundrel who well knew that I was not the party referred to in the item. Comment is unnecessary. Such contemptible, low manners will always meet with its just reward.

THOS. CARTER.

With W. W. Grocer Co.

To the Editor of the Eagle:

A short time ago an item appeared in one of the daily papers regarding the arrest and imprisonment of "Tom Carter and Mrs. A. Russell" for improper conduct, and as our Mr. Thomas Carter's name has been associated with the parties in question we wish in justice to him and to correct any mistake that may grow out of the affair, to state that our Mr. Carter is not the one referred to in the item, as he was absent from the city at the time.

WICHITA WHOLESALE GROCER CO.

To whom may orders.

I certify that the Mr. Thomas Carter in the employ of the Wichita Wholesale Grocer Co. is not the Tom Carter, although bearing the same name, who figured in my court some time ago in connection with Mrs. A. Russell.

W. W. THOMAS, J. P.

THE STOLEN BOY'S STORY.

About twenty-five newboys and boot-blacks were present at the corner of Douglas avenue and Main street on Friday afternoon, and had a free ride and entrance to the fair grounds, accompanied by Col. Hogeland and J. G. McCoy, the corresponding secretary of our local organization, who marched them into the fair grounds and capturing an open buggy organized a meeting. Then Col. Hogeland called for hearty cheers from the boys which was responded to with a will and repeated three times. A crowd soon gathered and listened attentively to all that was said in behalf of caring for homeless boys and girls. The announcement was made public of the names of the officers of the local organization and then the boys marched to the lunch stand of the W. C. T. U. and proceeded to devour about ten luscious pies which was all the edibles the ladies had left. After two hours spent in taking in the fair and races the boys gathered at the entrance gate and took a free ride back to the city, all seeming happy that they had at least one friend on this earth.

While the committee was yesterday making its rounds on the street for the purpose of gaining information concerning some of the little street gamins, a little boy, poorly clad, and who wore a despondent look, was noticed. He seemed to be afraid to talk to anyone, but seemed to hope to be able to make his way in this cruel world alone. The story his countenance suggested was enough to prompt an investigation, which drew out quite a pitiable story.

He said that his parents lived in Des Moines, Iowa, and that some months ago he had been stolen by a tramp, who had kept watch over him, which had prevented his escape. His kind master made him beg, and by his work the two were furnished a subsistence. He said he had given his master the dodge yesterday morning, and hoped to be able to never allow him to get another hold on him.

The pitiable story of the little fellow excited an interest in the hearers, and he was given a comfortable home, where he will be allowed to remain until his parents are notified.

THE SOLDIERS' RETURN.

Co. A, K. N. G., returned by a special order of the A. T. & S. F. railroad from their summer encampment at Fort Riley, at 11 o'clock this morning. Colonels Woodcock and Hutchinson and Adjutant Ask were aboard the train.

Besides Company A, under command of Capt. Richey, there were Co. B, of Wellington, under Captain French; Co. C, of Winfield, under Capt. Finch; one section of the First battery, under Capt. Height, and the Second regiment band from Winfield.

During the whole of the encampment the weather was fine, a circumstance that added not a little to the most delightful time which they reported having.

Captain Richey expressed himself as grateful to the U. S. army officers, Lieut. Col. Compton and Capt. Miller, for the pains they had taken to make everything as comfortable and pleasant as possible during the encampment.

He says, too, that Washburn, the fly drum major who accompanied the Second Regiment, handled the baton with glory to himself and credit to the regimental band.

The company arrived at the end of their railroad journey Monday evening about 8 o'clock, and after a march of three miles reached their encampment, which has been given the name of Camp Phil Sheridan, and pitched their tents.

Tuesday was company and battalion drill, Wednesday and Thursday competition drill and inspection. Friday they struck camp and marched to the Davis county fair grounds to participate in the sham battle. At night they started for home, and after a pleasant ride safely arrived as stated before.

There was no accident or serious mishap of any kind to mar the pleasure of their encampment, and although Company A was not successful in securing the prize in company drill their regiment, the second, was the successful competitor for the regimental prize.

POLICE COURT.

But three cases came up yesterday.

J. C. Wood paid a fine of $5 for having been drunk the day before.

Richard Roe and William Baer had been driving fast upon the street. His honor remarked that the public thoroughfare had not yet been turned into a race track, and also that their fine was $5. They paid it and departed.

Miss Halsey, who has charge of the kindergarten work in our city, has been for many years a teacher in primary school work, has been led through her experience to see the need of connecting work (primary and kindergarten combined) between the kindergarten and primary grade. Calls for such a grade having been made, should a sufficient number apply, a class will be formed for afternoon sessions, October 4, 1886.

Applicants call at kindergarten school, or W. C. T. U. rooms.

Mr. J. S. Cole, brother of Messrs. E. C. and L. R. and Samuel Robinson and J. L. Whitford arrived in the city Thursday from Charlotte, Mich. The three gentlemen went to Kingston last evening, but will return today. They are on a western tour. They report having heard so much of Wichita that it was a punishment to stay away tonight. The last named gentleman had the misfortune to have a $50 gold watch stolen from him on the night of his arrival, which he thought a rather tough introduction. He recognizes, however, that there are thieves in every city.

Mr. H. R. Butler has commenced work on his new brick on the corner of Main and William streets. The building will have an east front of seventy-five feet and will be three stories high. The contract for building gives until the first of December for completion.

J. George Smith, brother of Rob, and a young man well known in this city, has, with two other gentlemen, under the firm name of Price, Smith & Co., opened a real estate and insurance office in Simmons.

The stockholders of the Schuyler Electric Light Co. held a meeting yesterday, and the services of Mr. E. C. Sutton, as secretary of the company were dispensed with, and the position awarded to Mr. C. W. Davis.

Mr. Charles Clark, assistant bookkeeper for H. O. Lee, returned yesterday from a flying trip to Chicago, St. Louis, Cleveland and New York. His many friends are glad to hear that he has had a pleasant time.

Mr. Joseph Collett and family arrived in the city yesterday from Clinton county, Ohio. They will make Wichita their home in the future. Mr. C. is employed at the Wichita cracker factory.

The foundation of the C. R. Miller building on Water street has been commenced.
